About the Conference

The Force Science® Institute will hold its first Association of Force Science® Conference October 24th to 25th at our Chicago training center. The conference will provide continuing education and networking opportunities for Force Science® graduates and those interested in learning more about behavioral science and human performance in law enforcement. The latest Force Science® findings will be revealed. Attendees will hear how experienced law enforcement practitioners and researchers are applying Force Science® to investigations, court proceedings, practice, and training. See website for pricing information.
